Halo The story of S162

Hello everyone it's me with a new story I realize that I have been neglecting my other story's but I'll get to themâ€¦ if you don't know my story's then disregard the last comment.. This story will focus on my halo reach Spartan who was deployed to the Lone wolf mission with the other Spartan III's and Marinesâ€¦. Please Enjoy **

Planet Reach
>August 30th, 2552 20:00 Hours

Noble Six looked down on the body of a Hazop Spartan and collected his Dog tags "Damn it" he muttered looking back up he saw a Phantom converging on his position, quickly grabbing his rifle he stood there staring daring it to come closer it slowly descended and let its troops out "wait just one Phantom? That makes no sense I mean I've been causing them so many problems you'd think they'd send a whole CCS cruiser after meâ€¦ Well time to cause some havoc" Six said walking down the ramp

(35 minutes later)

"Can you survive? Alone? The Covenant decided long ago to take Reach and no single man- make that no single Spartan -could stop them. You fought long and hard and gave Reach your all to achieve this point. Fight if you must, but understand that you owe Reach nothing. Your efforts will line on the annals of history, and all of humanity will sing your praises for centuries to come. Be the Lone Wolf if you desire and fight for all you can, but you know this is not a battle you can win. It is time to say goodbye" someone over the radio said

"Who the ever living hell is alive here?" Six said "Whomever else is on this channel Identify now!" Six yelled into the Radio

"If I tell you who I am and where I am you must come and fine me" the voice said

"Affirmative. Now tell me please" Six said

"Spartan 162 or if you may know me Hellhound" the voice said

"Wait hellhound from Nemesis squad?"

"Correctâ€¦ My squad and I were deployed here with the marines to defend the UNSC Dresden. She landed here to correct some navigational problems and fix what they could of her hull" the voice said and in a shaky voice it continued "My squad encountered a whole squad of Sangheili Field marshals they perished instantly I was told to get the marines help but they were occupied by a Spirit dropshipâ€¦ They were on their own. I'll never forget their screams"

"Where are you hellhound?"

"Approximately 63 Feet from you in a destroyed buildingâ€¦ hurry my vision is fading" The voice said

Six started to rush to where hellhound was but feared he was too late when he entered the building he was stunned at what he sawâ€¦
